

PROPOSED QUESTIONNAIRE ON CURRENT INTELLIGENCE

A. Preliminary considerations.

1. I suggest that instead of a formal questionnaire form we use merely an informal memo asking for the information.
2. The "time spent" should be asked for in terms of percentages rather than working days because the latter is too imprecise.
3. I strongly urge asking for a breakdown of all working time, not just that spent on current intelligence, because:
 - a. it will be useful to the Committee to know how much time is spent on other types of production as well. This might dredge up some interesting information;
 - b. we will get a much more accurate estimate of the time spent on CI if the reporting branches are required to break down the total time instead of making a guess at only one segment of it;
 - c. the questionnaire should not be loaded so obviously in the direction of current intelligence.

B. Proposed Questionnaire: see attached.
